Why we do what we do.

John 4. 19 - 26

Today we are looking at Why we do what we do in worship. The theological name for this is the “Regulative Principle.” In other words, what principle(s) regulate how we worship? This has been a guiding though since the inception of the WELL. Today, we will be exploring some of the distinctiveness of our way of worship. There will be a follow-up time of discussion with the Pastor this Wednesday evening, 2 May at the church house at 7:00pm. Please come, bring your questions and invite any whom you think might enjoy such a one night study.

Our worship should be _____!

Tells us _____ to worship, and, _____ to worship

Several have asked how they can join the WELL. Simply call Tom. You can join by transfer of letter from another church, baptism or affirmation of faith. You can join at anytime you are assured that God has called you to covenant with us. There is no pressure – just celebration!
